

TRUCK COATING

Trucks in Reykjavík / Iceland, coated with 640 Permanent Protect

The climate of Iceland is described as "Sub Arctic""

This means that it is a very demanding environment.

Salt laden wind and freezing temperatures have a very negative impact on expensive trucks.

In addition many roads are formed from compressed gravel, and the chipping action of this gravel exposes the paintwork to aggressive corrosion.

640 protects Trucks against the harsh Icelandic environment.

TRUCK COATING
